

Title

Abstract of the Disclosure

A system for teleconferencing presentations by a presenter is disclosed, including a cart forming a podium, a computer in or on the cart, a touch panel 5 interface with the computer, positioned on the cart, visible to the presenter; and a CODEC operationally attached to the computer. One arrangement includes a first camera for taking a video image of the presenter, mounted on the cart, and a second camera, mounted on the cart, for taking images of documents. In one preferred arrangement, the system also includes a projector associated with the cart and a 10 screen. The projector projects images from the first or second camera to the screen.